Course Curriculum

Corporate Leadership in Mid Career

Course Description:

For most people in South Asia, especially in Bangladesh, English is a language that invokes fear. Not necessarily because, they don't know the language, but more because, they aren't sure, they are saying it right and pronouncing the words right. A lot of people have taken up Spoken English courses, but still, the fear and the stammering tendency remains.

Course Requirements:

Students finishing Education soon and Working Professionals

Course outline:

- Phonetics: Different Sound Possibilities of the English letters and their combinations
- Sentence Pattern: Structuring basic sentences properly
- Basics of Parts of Speech: Understanding the functions of words in a sentence, as per their usages
- Basics of Tenses: Form-change of verbs, with respect to time.

What you'll learn:

instead are the absolute basics of the language. That will enable removal of the fear and will establish confidence while speaking English. Just like Bengali, a core area that needs to be smoothened to speak a language better is its Grammar. Most non-native English speakers aren't confidently in the know of the same, and hence, their sentence formations become erroneous. That's what we will also be covering in this course, to ensure correctness and eventually style of your speaking the English Language.
