About Us

Post Graduate Diploma in Project Management (PGDPM) is a comprehensive program that provides students with the knowledge, skills, and tools required to successfully manage projects of varying complexities. The program is designed for individuals who wish to advance their careers in project management or gain expertise in the field.

The duration of the PGDPM program is Six months to complete with 18 Credits. The program is typically divided into Six courses and two modules. Students must complete all the required courses and assignments, as well as pass the final examination and complete a final project to earn the diploma.

Career opportunities for graduates of a PGDPM program include project manager, program manager, project coordinator, project analyst, and project consultant. These professionals may work in a variety of industries, including construction, information technology, healthcare, finance, and education. The demand for project management professionals is high, and the job market is expected to continue to grow in the coming years.

Objectives of The Program

PGDPM programs generally have the following objectives:

- 1.To provide students with a thorough understanding of project management principles, concepts, techniques and implementations.
- 2.To equip students with the skills required to effectively plan, implement, monitor, and control projects.
- 3.To prepare students for leadership roles in project management and to develop their ability to manage project teams.
- 4.To enable students to apply project management knowledge and skills to real-world projects.
- 5.Who complete the project management course they are able to secure PMP title from Project Management Institute (PMI) subject to passing their examination.

Why Should We Study PGDPM?

Post Graduate Diploma in Project Management (PGDPM) is a valuable qualification that can help you advance your career as a Project Manager. PGDPM programs teach you the skills and knowledge you need to manage projects effectively, including planning, organizing, budgeting, and communicating. PGDPM graduates are in high demand by employers, and they typically earn higher salaries than those without a PGDPM. If you are interested in a career in project management, PGDPM is a great way to get started.

If you are interested in a career in project management, we encourage you to consider studying PGDPM. It is a valuable investment in your future.
